

AbilityFirst Celebration: At the AbilityFirst Recognition Reception, members of Seville (in suits) take a break to meet event attendees (L-R): Reggie Ingram, AbilityFirst Chief Development Officer; Berlinda Fontenot-Jamerson, AbilityFirst Board Member; Carol Llewellyn, AbilityFirst Board Chair; Jackie Furby, AbilityFirst Committee Member; Mordena Moore, AbilityFirst Board Member and Lori Gangemi, AbilityFirst President and CEO.

AbilityFirst Recognition Reception Honors Individuals and Organizations

AbilityFirst, providing programs and services to children and adults with special needs, recently held its annual Recognition Reception, featuring a performance by Seville. The event, attended by AbilityFirst families, friends and employees, honored the individuals and organizations whose generous contributions support the organization's mission.

The AbilityFirst Harry A. Mier Center in Inglewood saluted Chris Clark as Volunteer of the Year for donating his time and resources to the center's program participants. Toyota Motor Sales, Inc.

was celebrated as Corporation of the Year for their donation of a new minivan to transport the center's children and adults into the community. For additional information about the AbilityFirst Harry A. Mier Center, visit www.abilityfirst.org/miecenter or call (323) 753-3101.