Time Warner Cable Awards $10,000 Grant to Support After School and Adult Day Programs at AbilityFirst Joan and Harry A. Mier Center in Inglewood

Los Angeles, CA – October 21, 2014 - Time Warner Cable has awarded a $10,000 grant to support the after school and adult day programs at the AbilityFirst Joan and Harry A. Mier Center in Inglewood. Kim Latour, Time Warner Cable’s director of community investment, will present the check to Nicole Weaver-Goller, AbilityFirst senior director of development, and to board members Berlinda Fontenot-Jamerson and Mordena Moore on Thursday, October 23, at 2:30pm at the Center, located at 8090 Crenshaw Boulevard in Inglewood.

“We are extremely grateful to Time Warner Cable for this grant,” said Lori Gangemi, CEO of AbilityFirst. “The money will help children and adults with developmental disabilities to achieve their personal best and become active community members to the full extent of their abilities.”

The AbilityFirst Joan and Harry A. Mier Center serves individuals who have moderate to profound developmental disabilities, including autism, intellectual disabilities, cerebral palsy and Down syndrome, as well as a range of physical challenges. The newly rebuilt center offers year-round weekday programs for children and adults. The Tiffany Guild Swimming Pool provides warm water aquatics and water safety instruction for program participants and residents of the community. The center serves the cities of Inglewood, Hawthorne, Gardena, South Los Angeles, Westchester, Torrance and Lennox.

“The Ability First Joan and Harry A Mier Center is a wonderful program that provides much needed services to children and adults,” said Latour. “We enjoy giving back to the many local communities we serve and appreciate everything they do at the Center.”
